RareBooksClub. Paperback. Book Condition: New. This item is printed on demand. Paperback. 138 pages. Original publisher: Portland, OR : U. S. Dept. of Agriculture, Forest Service, Pacific Northwest Research Station, 2002 OCLC Number: (OCoLC)51214198 Subject: Forests and forestry -- Oregon, Western -- Statistics. Excerpt: . . . The U. S. Department of Commerce, Bureau of the Census compiles and publishes the Land and Water acreage of land and water in the United States every 10 years. These area figures, Area Updated available by state and county, are accepted and used by FIA in Portland, Oregon, as the gross number of acres to be inventoried in each county. The previous inventory was based on 1980 census data, and the current inventory uses 1990 census figures. Raster-scanned topographic maps from the U. S. Department of the Interior, Geological Survey and a geographic information system are now used by the Bureau of the Cen-sus to identify water bodies and landforms and to determine the size of much smaller areas than previously possible. As a result, the definition of inland water was changed to reflect the finer resolution. Streams with a minimum width of 200 feet are now recog-nized, compared to 660 feet in 1980; small water bodies are now at least 4. 5 acres, compared to 40 acres in the past. Land owned by Native Americans is now classified as other private. In the 1986-87 Change in inventory, these lands were defined as other public. Forest industry was divided into Ownership the two categories of forest industry with mills and forest industry without mills ; both Definitions are now classed as forest industry. To analyze change in forest statistics, the 1986-87 data were recompiled to account for Analysis of Change technical changes in the 1995-97 inventory. The summaries presented in tables 27a Between...
